DESCRIPTION:

The book all racing trends fans have been waiting for has finally arrived

Every major race and festival in the 2008 Flat season has been placed under the spotlight in this unprecedented compilation of racing statistics. By highlighting the vital clues that pinpoint the winner's profile, along with exclusive 'future pointers', Racing Trends Revealed shows whether individual winners of big races should be followed or avoided in the future.

Covering 214 major races in Britain and Ireland, this unique winner-finding tool includes:

- Extended 12-year trend tables for every Group race and major betting handicap in Britain plus 20 Group events in Ireland - featuring previous form, age, weight, SP, draw and trainer.
- Every major race spotlighted reveals the winners' subsequent four outings – invaluable statistics that have never been published before.
- Trends tables accompanied with bite-size analysis, packed full of handy trends hints.
- Performance ratings for every past winner plus exclusive future success ratings.

Racing Trends Revealed provides long-awaited answers to questions such as:

- * Are Derby winners profitable to follow?
- * Which juvenile event is the biggest pointer towards the Classics?
- * From which major handicap has the winner only followed-up once in the last 12 years?
- * Which Royal Ascot winners are profitable to follow?

The list goes on but the guesswork is over, the answers are here, for all to find.

AUTHOR BIOGRAPHY:

David Myers has written about horseracing and produced racing trends both professionally and personally for over 15 years, including on The Guardian racing desk, where he is employed as a tipster, ratings-complier and sub. His trends column in Racing Ahead magazine built up a cult following which led to his first book, the informative Future Trends in 2005, before a second book The History of Horseracing in 2006.
